

Second Sunday of Lent

March 8, 2020

Dear Members and Friends of the Cathedral, Saint Mary of the Immaculate Conception, and Saint Patrick,

I hope that your Lent is off to a good start! Remaining faithful to what the Church asks of us and the resolutions we made for ourselves will only lead us closer to the Lord, which is what the point of Lent—and, indeed, the whole Christian life—is.

One of the main focuses of this holy season is the preparation for Baptism and the new life it brings, won for us on that first Easter. Throughout the world, men and women have heard the call of the Lord and found him in the Catholic Church. In our own diocese, 78 adults are preparing to be baptized into Christ and his Church this Easter. Besides them, another 108 people already baptized as Christians are seeking out full communion with Christ in the Catholic Church through the sacraments of Confirmation and the Eucharist. Together, these 186 people participated in the Rite of Election and Call to Continuing Conversion with Bishop Malooly last Saturday. At this service, the bishop inquired of them and their sponsors about their readiness for the sacraments, then he declared them to be “elect” or chosen for the sacraments. He charged them to use this season of Lent as a time of purification and enlightenment so that they can truly turn away from sin and the devil to be fully embraced by God.

But, just because you and I are already baptized and in the fold of Holy Mother Church does not mean that we are “off the hook” when it comes to preparation this Lent. During this time, the Church—and Christ, himself—calls us to continuing conversion. While this is the formal title of the rite the Church uses for those baptized outside the Catholic Church seeking full communion, the need for ongoing conversion in our lives is no less for you and me. I think the questions that the bishop uses for those candidates might be a good examination of conscience for us to use this Lent to grow ever closer to God and his Church. Their sponsors were asked these questions, and now it is for us to answer them about ourselves:

- Have I faithfully listened to the apostles' instruction proclaimed by the Church?
- Have I come to a deeper appreciation of my baptism, in which I was joined to Christ and his Church?
- Have I reflected sufficiently on the tradition of the Church, which is my heritage, and joined their brothers and sisters in prayer?
- Have I advanced in a life of love and service to others?

These questions turn us to the deposit of faith (Scripture and Tradition), the sacramental life of the Church, and the life of Christian service following the example of Christ. In short, they ask how we are doing as Catholics, as believers in Christ Jesus. Let's take this season of Lent to respond to the call to continually be converted all the more to the Lord who loves us so much that he willingly went to the cross for us so that he could share his divine life with us. To receive that life of grace and be in communion with him and his body, the Church, is what the goal of our lives should be. I can think of no better way to spend our Lent seeking to answer those questions all the more boldly by our lives.

May God bless you all,
Father McQuaide

"To celebrate the Gospel of life means to celebrate the God of life, the God who gives life... In every child which is born and in every person who lives or dies we see the image of God's glory. We celebrate this glory in every human being, a sign of the living God, an icon of Jesus Christ" (The Gospel of Life 84).

The faithful of the Diocese of Wilmington are urged to observe standard precautions, including practicing good hygiene, washing hands frequently and covering your mouth when sneezing or coughing. Parishioners are also reminded that if they are sick, especially with flu-like symptoms, they should stay home for their own well-being and that of others. If parishioners are sick or suspect they are sick with a contagious illness, they are not bound by the Sunday Mass obligation. The faithful should also be reminded that they should not receive from the chalice if they are feeling ill."
